Administrative Information

Acquisition Information: The collection of records in Record Unit 14 has been "artificially" created. There is no original order to these documents. Rather, it is assumed that the organization's librarians, interns and volunteers have brought these records together at some point. The institution's own records do not shed any light on when and why the collection was originally formed. What is known is that the MVM was founded in 1922. And, the organization began to collect documents in 1923. Thus the formation of this record unit can only be dated to sometime between 1923 and the present day. The processing of this collection in 2006 has largely kept this artificial collection together.

The 275 foot luxury vessel had sailed from Boston with 87 passengers and 45 crew members and was bound for Savannah. It was one of the most shipping disasters to befall Martha's Vineyard. 75 passengers and 28 crew members drowned. No women or children survived the freezing waters. Despite an official inquiry, investigators never determined why the ship was off course in clear weather.

Beyond the deadly disaster of the City of Columbus, the Vineyard did also suffered from other shipping disasters in the 19th and 20th centuries. Despite the coordinated efforts of the coastal lighthouses and the Humane Society, mariners did lose their lives in some of these wrecks.
