2019 Year in Review

How do we even begin to capture what an eventful and historic year 2019 was for the Martha's Vineyard Museum? It was the year when our cherished, long-held dream finally came true, but there is so much more to share!

Yes, the Martha's Vineyard Museum finished restoring and improving the landmark 1895 Vineyard Haven Marine Hospital. Yes, Island history finally took its rightful place center-stage, at the top of a majestic hill. Yes, the museum was warmly embraced by the Island community beginning March 13th, the day it opened to the public for the first time. All these things were dearly hoped-for. But 2019 brought a plethora of wonderful developments worth sharing.

Perhaps the most encouraging and heart-warming signs of early success came in the sheer numbers of Islanders and visitors who flooded through the museum doors. Even before we opened, MVM welcomed over 300 members from the MV Chamber of Commerce for a sneak preview in January. More than 100 Island educators also toured the facility in early March while the painters were perfecting the finishing touches, and a lucky class of Island schoolchildren celebrated Heath Hen Day in the still-closed galleries and classroom.

Oak Bluffs second graders were the first students to visit on a field trip celebrating Heath Hen Day in the Morgan Learning Center.

2,200 people flocked to the Marine Hospital over Grand Opening weekend, a non-stop three-day affair that included the opening of an unprecedented exhibit called Benton's Martha's Vineyard as well as our annual gala, Evening of Discovery — which garnered record attendance and featured surprise fireworks over the Lagoon. The weekend concluded with a Free Family Festival that drew over 1,400 people to the museum in just four hours. Staff, volunteers, and board were elated and exhausted — and we were just getting started!

2019 saw numbers far greater than MVM had witnessed in its nearly century-long existence in Edgartown. Over 25,000 visitors came to our new campus in those first nine months. We gained 1,000 new members and 10,000 new followers on social media. More than 1,000 people came to our Pecha Kucha presentations — now held at the Museum for the first time in our history — and 8,560 visitors came to the Edgartown Lighthouse and 548 to the East Chop Light. Free Tuesday evenings, sponsored by Cronig's Market and Cape Cod Five Bank, allowed us to give free admission to over 6,000 visitors. Inquiries to the MVM research library more than quadrupled.

Education programs grew at a healthy pace in 2019, with 119 classes being taught to 1,015 unique Island school children. In total, 2,479 student experiences were provided — not counting 800 kids who attended museum programs outside of field trips. Students from Tufts University, Boston University, and Smith College traveled to the Museum for visits and educational symposia. All these programs were supported by generous donors and the Museum's National Endowment for the Humanities endowment.

There were new faces aplenty at MVM in 2019. Four fantastic Sheldon Hackney Fellows joined us from across the country as interns. The Museum's staff grew as well, adding Carol Carroll as Director of Finance and Administration; Khalid Jackson as Visitor Services Coordinator; Kate Logue as Exhibitions Assistant; Jeanne White as Museum Shop Coordinator; Sydney Torrence as Advancement Associate; and a wonderful line-up of individuals staffing the front desk. Over 160 volunteers logged in more than 5,000 hours on campus, with our first graduating class of docents offering at least two tours daily to visitors and groups.

One of the things we're most proud of is the partnerships we've built — and are continuing to build — with people and organizations in the community. 2019 was a banner year for new relationships that hold great promise for the future. Island organizations we worked with include ACE MV, MV Community Services, the Vineyard Gazette, MV Camp Meeting Association, MVNAACP, AS-ALH, Polly Hill Arboretum, Island Grown Schools, the Trustees of Reservations, MV Shellfish Group, Biodiversity Works, The Yard, and Big Brothers Big Sisters of Martha's Vineyard. We presented the Vineyard Medal to the team at Chilmark Chocolates, Elaine Weintraub, and Allen and Lynne Whiting.

Phil Wallis joined Nevette Previd of Farm Field Sea as co-chairs of the Vineyard Haven Harbor Cultural District, and became more actively involved in the Vineyard Haven Business Association, hosting First Friday in December. New and ongoing collaborations with individuals are helping us enrich and diversify our offerings of every kind. We established a long-term agreement with Gina Stanley (celebrity chef of the Artcliff Diner) to oversee operations at our First Light Café and provide food and beverages. We are working with photographer Dan Waters to receive the vast archive of present-day film photos he is taking of Islanders and Island life — a trove for future researchers of Island history. We have experimented with non-traditional programming by inviting Emily Phillips to teach a yoga class, Sherry Sidoti to host meditation workshops, and more. We have also rented various parts of the museum property to institutions such as Vineyard House, WMVY Radio, and the Ford Foundation.

Emily Phillips hosted a yoga class all summer long in various spaces throughout the Museum.

The Museum continued to build, and to add. In 2019 we unveiled the Bette and Richard Saltzman Cabinet of Curiosities, first exhibiting our collection of ship models, and then an assortment of rare duck decoys. We worked with stone artist Lew French to create the Rose Styron Garden behind the Linnemann Pavilion. With funding from the Edgartown CPC plus money raised through private contributions, we began sitework and needed improvements at our historic home, the Cooke House Legacy Gardens in Edgartown. We completed Phase One of restorations at the East Chop Lighthouse with International Chimney Company and $198,000 in funding from the Oak Bluffs CPC.

We worked with Gannon and Benjamin to perform repairs and restoration on our catboat Vanity, and we added 39 new memorial stones to the Edgartown Lighthouse Children’s Memorial, hosting the 18th annual Ceremony of Remembrance there in September. 64 new objects, archives and photographs were donated to the MVM collection during the year, and 23 new community voices were added to the Oral History collection. Vineyard Voices Three, the third volume of Island oral histories, was published and promoted through a series of book talks.

With an abundance of programs and exhibits, MVM was bursting with life in 2019. Borrowing extraordinary works for the blockbuster exhibit, Benton’s Martha’s Vineyard was only possible because of the Museum’s new climate-control and security systems. Eleven major exhibits rotated through the larger galleries including Face Value, Northern Connections, and Our Own Beat. We exhibited rarely-seen objects in the Fleischnner Family Jewelbox Gallery, changing out the objects seven times from March through December. The Adele H. Waggaman Community Gallery was home to five exhibitions in which a broad spectrum of guest curators from the community created their own shows. Under the able skipper Chris Murphy, MVM’s catboat Vanity made more than 40 traversals of Edgartown Harbor with volunteers and friends.

Over 90 original events and programs took place at our new home in 2019, including various musical performances inspired by our exhibit Our Own Beat and featuring The Flying Elbows, Jim Kweskin, Kahoots, and Jemima James, Kate Taylor, and Rose Guerin. We hosted a symposium on climate change and assisted in the community discussion of the future of the Oak Bluffs Civil War statue plaque, with MVM research librarian Bow Van Riper providing factual content and context for informed decision-making. First-ever events included Clue Live and a Halloween open house.

During all this, behind the scenes, we were still working diligently with Consigli Construction and numerous subcontractors to finish a variety of punch list items including essential fire protection for the MVM collection in the Skiff Avenue Annex. Staff participated in a New England Museum Association conference in Burlington, VT. A Museum Disaster Plan was completed, and work began on a new strategic plan, based on information gathered through member, visitor, staff, and board surveys culminating in a fall Feedback Review.

In short, 2019 was the year when the Martha’s Vineyard Museum hit the ground running. It was a year when we were unspeakably grateful those who had supported us, had faith in us, and stayed with us to the end. And when we celebrate our achievements, what we’re really celebrating is the Island community of year-round and seasonal residents, without whom none of this would have been remotely possible. Thank you!

Sincerely,

Stever H. Aubrey

2019 Treasurer's Report

The year of 2019 was momentous for the Museum with its opening to the public in its new Vineyard Haven campus in mid-March after years of planning, fundraising and construction. Building on its Grand Opening celebration and its first major Thomas Hart Benton exhibition, the Museum surpassed its expectations with over 25,000 visitors for the year.

As we have indicated in prior reports, operations for the Museum continue to become broader and more complex. With the uncertainty of operating in a new and multi-faceted campus, we were pleased to be able to manage both revenue from operations and operating expenses close to planned levels for the full year of 2019. The growth in operating expenses over 2018 was somewhat greater than usual because the Museum was not open for operation in 2018, and 2019 included several one-time expenses paid for with restricted funds (renovation of East Chop Lighthouse, refurbishment of several collection items, etc.). With this successful year of operation completed, the Museum was poised to move forward with its planned business model of steady management of expenses and more rapid growth in revenue from operations.

The construction project for the new Marine Hospital campus, including the Rose Styron Garden, was completed by the end of 2019 other than for a few punch list items. The total project cost was $19.8 million. Also, outside of the campaign the Museum raised $0.4 million to redevelop the Cooke House Gardens in Edgartown and raised $2.5 million to purchase and make improvements on three residential properties abutting the new Vineyard Haven campus to use for storage, office space and other support needs.

While the Comprehensive Capital campaign was formally completed at the end of 2018, the Museum still needed to raise funds to pay for the remaining cost of construction and ongoing operating support. At the beginning of 2019 the target was to raise $9.0 million in the two years of 2019 and 2020 – this would complete the funding for the building project and endowment, support operations for these two years and build the needed working capital for moving forward. Progress was made toward this objective in 2019 but at a slower rate than planned. To help manage the timing of cash flows in the construction process, by the end of 2019 the Museum had borrowed $7.0 million under its bank agreement (reduced to $6.8 million in January 2020). As the targeted funds are raised over the next few years, the Museum does not plan to have any bank debt outstanding.

The Museum continued to add to and grow its endowment, and by the end of 2019 it had reached almost $2.5 million.

While not a 2019 event, it is worth noting that the coronavirus pandemic of early 2020 is having a significant impact on Museum operating and financial results. We are working on ways to serve our Island community safely while taking a number of steps to preserve cash. We will continue to be diligent as new chapters in the pandemic unfold.

From our first year experience, we are excited about what the new Museum campus can bring to the Island. We look forward to getting through these difficult times, and helping it to thrive in the coming years. Many thanks for your ongoing support.

Dale N. Garth, Treasurer

2019 Museum Volunteers

Over 140 volunteers dedicated over 5,000 hours to assist with the library, visitor services, curatorial projects, education projects, oral history, special events, lighthouses, and other areas of Museum activities. Our Museum, like so many others, depends on volunteers to fulfill our mission. They can be justly proud of what they accomplished in 2019. We thank them for all their hard work and dedication.
