Doherty Hall

An aerial photograph of a campus. At the top is a long, rectangular building with a grey roof. Below it is a large green lawn. To the right of the lawn is a garden area with a stone path and a small white building. At the bottom is a large, multi-winged building with a grey roof. To the right of this building is a large white building. At the very bottom is a large green lawn with many small trees. Various labels are placed over the image to identify different areas.
